Objective

Through this program it is wished to illustrate how powerful DOS is and what all can be done using it. Nowadays most of the people use windows software and forget that which helped create windows. We all have learned DOS in our primary school and now tend to forget how it acted as a base to support the whole of our knowledge of computers.

If you are like the hobbyist programmers are, you will feel the strength in DOS, how the appearance of DOS itself inspires us to code. Ever played DOS games (like pacman)? If you notice you will find that even if they are very low resolution games, yet they are full of fun and very original. Yes, it is DOS which makes its programmer's original. So if someone wants to be really original in something he makes, believe it, DOS will be the first requirement in both present and future.

Thank you for downloading this program, and thanks again for trusting DOS. Through this package I have tried to illustrate to power of DOS to some extent and call you back to DOS programming. But for sure, by two years or so, you will get to see the unleashing of DOS, and then DOS will be your best pal. Till then happy coding.
